

A. Items concerning the California State Bar.

As a member of the California State Bar since December, 1982, the State Bar should be informed of my death so that my membership can be properly reflected. Even if I have been “inactive” with the Bar or appear has having “resigned,” that status should be changed to “deceased” when appropriate. Please attend to the following within 60 days of my death:

Assuming there is no actual law practice in which I am engaged, the only responsibility would be notification of death to the State Bar. Seek assistance, if necessary, from named atty one or named atty two (both are much younger relatives) as to current addresses of the State Bar of California,

1. Notify the California State Bar in writing that member, [REDACTED], member # [REDACTED] has died and status should be changed to “deceased” and there is no active law practice requiring transfer or succession;

2. Provide a certified copy of the death certificate along with the notification.

In the event that at the time of death, there may be a question regarding what might be the appearance of any legal files, consult with atty one or atty two on the proper disposition of those files.

Any subsequent dues notice from the State Bar should not be paid but please do NOT ignore the notification requests above as all member status continues in perpetuity and should reflect the proper current status.
